$HOP RIVERSIDE— SUPPORT YOUR CITY SERVICES!

Every time goods are purchased, a restaurant serves a meal, or a movie enjoys record-breaking attendance in Riverside, we are increasing our investment in the community through sales tax dollars that support vital city services and improve our quality of life. This is because 1% of all taxable sales originating within our city come back into the City's coffers.

In other words, there are added benefits for you and your family all year long when you $hop Riverside! For example, each time a $20,000 car is purchased in Riverside, approximately $200 comes to the City of Riverside to help pay for park, police and fire services, and improve libraries and the roads we drive on every day.

Last year the City debuted a "$hop Riverside" campaign to help spread the word about how important it is for local residents to do their shopping here in Riverside. We received a positive response from residents and businesses alike and so we are launching the $hop Riverside 2004 Campaign in time for the back to school and holiday shopping seasons. Give a gift to yourself—and do your holiday shopping in Riverside.

Over the next few months watch for $hop Riverside messages on television, in the local section of the Press-Enterprise, in your utility bill, and on banners displayed throughout the City. The messages will remind you of just how important it is to make your dollars count—and support city services.

Ishopriverside.com is the best place to go to learn more about how your sales tax dollars support services that benefit you. And simply by visiting the website, you can enter to win the monthly $500 cash prize! Even more exciting is the $1,500

CASH PRIZE awarded in January. Log on now to Ishopriverside.com to find out what the buzz is all about. We think you will get quite an education, and you just might find out about other city programs and resources that you may not have known about.

$hop Riverside's Title Sponsors are the Riverside New Car Dealers Association and The Press-Enterprise Company. Other sponsors include Charter Media, Galleria at Tyler and the Greater Riverside Chambers of Commerce. Numerous local businesses are partnering with the City of Riverside and the Riverside Public Utilities Department.

The busiest shopping time of the year is almost here! It starts with "back to school," continues through the holiday season and then on to the new year. Support our city by shopping locally this season. And, while you're at it, help us spread the word about $hop Riverside and the added value to the community.

You can stay informed about the $HOP RIVERSIDE campaign and participating local businesses by visiting Ishopriverside.com, riverside-chamber.com, pe.com or simply by calling 1-877-RIV-SIDE.

CASH IN ON CONSERVATION— BE WATERWISE & BE POWERWISE

The sixth year of the worst drought in the past five centuries is teaching the western United States, including Riverside, hard lessons about the true value and limits of our supply of drinking water.

California is still paying for the hard lessons the state's energy crisis a few years ago taught us about the actual value and limits of our energy supply.

That's why the City of Riverside Public Utilities (RPU) launched dual public awareness campaigns—Be Waterwise and Be Powerwise—to help its customers save water, save energy, and save money

Cash In On Conservation—BE WATERWISE

RPU's Be Waterwise campaign points to lawns and landscaping as a good place to "painlessly" conserve a lot of water and save money, too. Here's why. First, most people use 50 percent or more of their water outside their homes on their lawns, trees and shrubs. And second, most Southern Californians over-water their landscapes with DOUBLE the amount of water needed to keep plants healthy.

This means, most people could comfortably cut their water usage and their water bill by 25 percent just by reducing the time and days they water and still have a healthy lawn and landscape. So, the biggest water-saving measure you can do is FREE and requires no purchases, plumbing or planting.

For the typical single family home, the next largest water users are toilets (14%) and laundry (12%). RPU's Be Waterwise campaign also offers utility rebate programs: $55 per toilet to conserve water inside homes for replacing pre-1994 water-wasting toilets with an Ultra Low-Flush Toilet (ULFT) and $75 to $175 for installing a new High-Efficiency Clothes Washer (HECW).

The new low-flush toilets use 50-75 percent less water per flush than the older fixtures use. That would mean another 7-10 percent off your water bill.

The HECWs use 40 percent less water (and 55 percent less electricity) than standard models, which would squeeze another five percent off your water bill.

Together, these three water-saving measures alone could reduce the typical home's water use and water bill by as much as 40 percent.

“TRAVELING CITY HALL” CELEBRATES 100TH MEETING MILESTONE

Nearly 4,500 City residents have turned out for Mayor's Night Out community meetings since the popular program began 10 years ago. More than 30 residents of Mission Grove neighborhood attended the 100th Mayor's Night Out on July 22 to question the Mayor, their City Council member, and City department heads.

“This has been a highly successful program for Riverside,” said Mayor Ron Loveridge. “Any measure of a successful city has to start with successful neighborhoods. Getting our departments out into all of the neighborhoods, to directly hear concerns from residents, enables all of us to understand the City better.”

Questions from residents ranged from traffic patterns to park development. “When the program began 10 years ago, most of the concerns were about crime and public safety,” Loveridge said. “The emphasis has changed, to traffic and public works. That's a good thing,” he said.

From its beginning in June 1994 in La Sierra, Mayor's Night Out has been a conduit for residents to ask questions and express concerns about local planning, traffic, policing, parks, code enforcement and other issues. Over the past decade these meetings have resulted in park improvements, targeted policing and code enforcement in problem areas, investigation of traffic controls, stronger neighborhood associations, as well as informing the Mayor and City officials of the issues that are currently on the minds of residents in Riverside's varied neighborhoods.

“Take your kids. Show them how to get things done,” said Walter White, whose teenage son, Steve, went to many of the community meetings to push for the skatepark, eventually located at Hunt Park.

“Mayor's Night Out is an amazing program, for people who think no one cares. As a result of Mayor's Night Out, a lot of people know people are listening. In the meetings I've attended, people have brought forth a concern and it gets acted upon,” Councilman Steve Adams said during the July 21 reception marking the program's anniversary.

In addition to the question and answer format between residents and City Hall, material regarding City services, code compliance calls and violations, and department accomplishments in each neighborhood are distributed to residents. Written responses to questions posed at Mayor's Night Out are provided to attendees within 30 days.

The theme of Mayor's Night Out is: “What can be done in my neighborhood to make it a better place in which to live?”

“Problems look different from the neighborhood point of view than they do from offices in City Hall,” said Loveridge. “It's important that we get out to where people live, to see and hear exactly what neighbors are concerned about—and see what we, the City, can do to help.”

City officials from departments such as Public Works, Police, Fire, Library, Public Utilities, Park and Recreation, Planning, Legal and City Manager, usually attend.

“City Hall gets out and reaches out to the people. There's good dialogue,” Councilman Ed Adkison said. “Constituents can see who makes the process work. Mayor's Night Out is a two-way street—the staff gets to meet the public and the public gets to meet the staff.”

CITY DEPARTMENTS CEMENT RIVERSIDE—ENSENADA SISTER CITY TIES AND WIN AWARD

Sister Cities International (SCI) recognized donations to public safety agencies and the library in Ensenada, that were coordinated by the International Relations Council (IRC) and the City of Riverside, at their annual conference July 17th in Fort Worth, Texas.

IRC members Bill and Shirley Gavitt and Steven Frasher, Assistant to Mayor Ron Loveridge, accepted the 2004 Innovation Award for Municipal Cooperation from SCI President Sherman Banks, SCI Executive Director Tim Honey, and Mary Jean Eisenhower, granddaughter of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and founder of the sister cities movement.

During 2003, Riverside donated a rescue squad vehicle, a fire truck, 100 police uniforms and 500 Spanish-language children's books to Ensenada agencies.

The City of Riverside created a sister city relationship with the City of Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, in 1976. Among the oldest of Riverside's six international relationships, Ensenada ties are firmly rooted in President Eisenhower's vision of “people to people” understanding and cooperation. Early exchanges were social and cultural. It was through this relationship Ensenada city officials became aware of surplus City of Riverside property that could be of use south of the border.

After an appeal from Ensenada officials, communicated through their sister city committee, used lighting equipment that was outmoded for Riverside's requirements, taking up storage space, and headed for disposal as scrap, found new life lighting Mexican streets. During the past 20 years, donations have included traffic lighting, signal equipment, emergency light bars, support equipment for emergency vehicle conversions, and a utility service truck (“cherry picker”). Vehicle donations from the City to municipal agencies in Ensenada began in 1987, and over time have included animal control trucks, paramedic squad cars and fire engines.

Donations are facilitated between the International Relations Council through its Ensenada Sister City Committee. In addition to Riverside city contributions, the Friends of the Library was a key fundraiser facilitating the purchase and donation of books to the Ensenada library. Police and Fire department union representatives are often on hand for the transfer of equipment as an expression of support and solidarity with emergency response personnel in the sister city.

The award plaque and banner will be on display at several Riverside department offices over the coming months.

Highlights of the Municipal Donations Projects—2003

- In May 2003, the Riverside Fire Department, with the approval of City Council, donated a 1986 Ford Rescue Squad vehicle to Bomberos y Proteccion Civil, the Ensenada Fire Department.
- In October 2003, the Riverside Police Department donated approximately 100 used and worn uniforms to the Ensenada Police Department.
- In November 2003, the Riverside Fire Department donated a 1984 Emergency One Hurricane fire truck to the Ensenada Fire Department.
- The Riverside Public Library and Friends of the Library donated 500 new Spanish-language children's books to the Ensenada Biblioteca Publica Regional Benito Juarez.

TRAIN TOGETHER, RESPOND TOGETHER

The City of Riverside has taken an important step in making sure our citizens are better prepared and better trained to respond to emergency situations in their neighborhoods. On February 24, 2004, City Council voted to create a Community Emergency Response Training (CERT) Program. For a modest fee of $25.00 to cover the training materials, citizens participate in 20 plus hours of training in diverse subjects such as disaster preparedness, disaster fire suppression, basic medical operations and light search and rescue operations. Our cadre of instructors from the Riverside Fire Department and Emergency Management have developed a hands on, interactive course based on the core material provided by FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency).

We have two training sessions remaining this year: September 10th through September 12th and October 15th through October 17th. Each session meets on Friday evening and all day Saturday and Sunday. Sunday afternoon the class participates in an exercise to demonstrate their newly acquired skills. After completion of the course, each CERT member is given their CERT identification card and a duffel bag containing a hard hat, vest and goggles. Throughout the course, members are asked to supplement their equipment with items such as gloves, first aid kit, hammer, and fire extinguisher. A variety of additional training programs will be offered through the American Red Cross and our Riverside Emergency Operation Center to insure our CERT members keep their skills sharp and are always ready to respond.

When emergencies happen, CERT members can give critical support to first responders, provide immediate assistance to victims, collect disaster intelligence to support first responder efforts, and organize spontaneous volunteers at a disaster site. CERT members can also help with non-emergency projects that help improve the safety of the community such as assist with lost children and first aid at the Orange Blossom Festival and Airport Open House, participate as "victims" in our yearly hospital disaster exercises and provide upkeep and maintenance of the fire department's Major Incident Supply Trailers.

If you would like to participate in this exciting program and make your home, your neighborhood and your community a safer place to live, please call Vivian Widman, Emergency Management, at (951) 826-5550 to register for either the September or October class. Riverside CERT... Be A Part of It!

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 3-9, 2004

Join the City of Riverside Fire Department's community safety event during the first week of October as firefighter's focus on the importance of smoke alarms in the home and practicing home fire drills. For further information contact Gale Schulte, Public Education Specialist at (951) 826-5384.

CITY OF RIVERSIDE FIRE DEPARTMENT STATION OPEN HOUSES

In the month of October, 2004 the City of Riverside Fire Department will hold their annual Open House. The 12 City fire stations will host the annual Open House to welcome the community to visit their neighborhood fire station and meet with the men and women who serve them. This event will also provide the residents of the City of Riverside an opportunity to see for themselves the professionalism, expertise, equipment, capabilities and positive attitude of the Fire Department. Chief Carlson, along with the men and women of the Fire Department, wish to thank the residents of the City of Riverside for the support and care they have shown to the Fire Department over the past year.

BE WATERWISE & BE POWERWISE, continued from A1

Cash In On Conservation— BE POWERWISE

You can easily BE POWERWISE by powering down your home's energy consumption and your monthly electric bill in a number of ways:

For every two degrees you turn up your thermostat, you could lower cooling costs as much as five percent. You can dial in a new comfort level for yourself and your electric bill.

You can "pre-chill" your cooling costs down another 10 percent when you shade your air conditioning unit without obstructing the intake grills.

Both these no-cost tips could lower your cooling costs by 12 to 30 percent.

RPU has expanded its website, riversidepublicutilities.com, to include more water and energy conservation information and rebate programs on-line. Or you may call (951) 826-5485 for rebate program details.

It's easy to "Cash In On Conservation" and ensure that there will be enough water and energy for all.

RIVERSIDE HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION

Established in the City of Riverside in 1966, the mission of the Human Relations Commission is “Advocating for equal opportunity, justice, and access in the City of Riverside to services and opportunities...Fostering mutual understanding and respect between people; encouraging education and outreach; developing and promoting programs, which work to eliminate prejudice and discrimination.” The Human Relations Commission works under specific objectives which include:

1. Equal justice before the law;
2. Equal socio-economic and political opportunities;
3. Protection of dignity and integrity of every individual;
4. Responsible citizenship;
5. Responsive redress of grievances;
6. Equitable opportunities in health, housing, education, and employment;
7. Respect and support of the law;
8. Education related to basic human rights and responsibilities;
9. Reduction and eventual elimination of prejudice among people based on race, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or sexual orientation.

Relations at (951) 826-5709, or see our web site at www.riversideca.gov/hrc.

- Study Circles: These are small group discussions known as “Study Circles.” People from all parts of the community meet in these small groups to talk about one particular issue. It allows the community to participate in the solution for specific issues of concern
- Dinner Dialogues: The dialogues provide a forum for participants to explore cross-cultural understanding and communication and come together to determine proactive steps we can take to keep our community united during these challenging times. This will provide closure for the program and an opportunity to celebrate the new relationships and new understandings gained.
- Building Friends Across the Lines: A forum for people with different backgrounds to come together in social interaction. In 2003 the program introduced a Bowling Tournament, and a Friendship Fair took place at Stratton Community Center in April 2004. This program will include two new community wide events. Watch the website for additional information as this program develops.

- Report Card: A tool to measure the actual economic, social, and political progress of minorities and other protected groups within the City. This allows the city to measure actual progress toward equality of opportunity and outcome for all the community. The 2nd Annual Report Card was released in June 2004, and is available on the web-site. If you would like a copy of the Report Card, please contact the Office of Human Relations.

- Access Riverside: Through Access Riverside, people in Riverside are able to express their concerns and complaints. The Human Relations Commission offers guidance to a complaining resident as to the appropriate way to receive service and redress within the City Government or from another public agency. Please see the web-site to file a complaint, or call the Office of Human Relations.

- Eastside Youth Advisory Committee: Established in 2002 with the purpose of encouraging dialogue with young persons, community groups, and the Human Relations Commission on issues and policies affecting the youth of the Eastside.

What's Happening at the Library

EASTSIDE CYBRARY GETS NEW SPACE

Riverside's award-winning Eastside Cybrary Connection will move into larger quarters in the fall. The Riverside Public Library has put to use the Measure C dollars approved by Riverside voters in 2002 to enter into a long-term lease for 10,000 square feet in the Town Square Shopping Center.

The new space will include all of the computer workstations and the tutoring programs now offered at the Cybrary. A special section of the space will be devoted to homework assistance with student volunteers from La Sierra University, Riverside Community College, and the University of California, Riverside. A Community Development Block Grant (CDGB) will outfit the space including shelves for a circulating collection of new library materials.

The Cybrary's programs make use of a strategy called scaffolding whereby learning is transmitted not from teacher to student, but rather from the more advanced student to less advanced student. This activity promotes collaboration between children and older peers including university students and faculty. It promotes social and cognitive development through informal, playful, learning activities. UC Links, an early partner of the Cybrary introduced this strategy. UC Links is a network of university-community-school partnerships in computer-based after school educational activities for children throughout California.

A newer partner to the Cybrary is Longfellow School. The parents of children enrolled in project Even Start are introduced to computers and information technology at the Cybrary. The Riverside Computer Investment Program (RCIP) also relies on the Cybrary staff to provide training for Eastside youth and families who apply for low-interest loans to buy computer workstations.

This recent letter to Cybrary staff captures the importance of the program to the community. "I am very grateful to the Cybrary for the help they have given me and my children. For three years I have been bringing them to study nothing but mathematics, and now they are in Calculus. When they came from El Salvador, they had never touched a computer and now they know a lot. Even I, at 40 years old, learned to use a computer. Even my husband knows how to use the computer because my sons and myself have taught him. I don't know what I would have done if the Cybrary didn't exist. I think that my family would have been behind and involved in problems and abandoned their school." (Translated from Spanish)

THANK YOU RIVERSIDE!

The community of Riverside has met the challenge put to them by the generous businesses, service clubs, and community leaders of the city. That challenge is to put a READY Set Go Storymobile on the road for the children of Riverside by the summer of 2006. The cost of the project is just over $250,000.

Close to $100,000 has been raised in the first year of this two-year campaign. It is not too late to make your gift count and help us past the halfway mark for 2004.

The READY Set Go Storymobile is an updated, hi-touch, hi-tech, small-scale bookmobile that can maneuver neighborhood streets to reach the 90-plus child care centers throughout Riverside's 85 sq. miles. Children in these centers cannot go each week to a library story program and pick out books for their own reading pleasure, so the library is going to them. To succeed in school, children are expected to have approximately 1500 hours of pre-reading experience before they reach kindergarten. Sharing books from the public library is one important way to acquire that experience.

Library staff, trained in early childhood development, will operate the READY Set Go Storymobile. It will carry not only materials for children, but also books for the child care providers and parents on how to help children prepare for school. The ongoing operation of READY Set Go Storymobile will be financed by Library Measure C funds. However, the majority of the initial costs are a private sector investment in our children.

TRIVIA BEE FOR THE LIBRARY

The fourth annual Rotary Trivia Bee for the Library's Literacy Programs will be Saturday, October 7, 2004 at 6:00 pm, Riverside Community College, Bradshaw Student Union.

Did you miss of the fun of showing everyone how smart you were last year? Well you get another chance. The Riverside Sunrise and Riverside East Rotary Clubs are again sponsoring Buzz Bee's Trivia Bee in partnership with the Library Foundation. Each year the event grows and the competition gets stiffer.

Theresa Rhyne of Talk With the Animals is returning as the charming and disarming Mistress of Ceremonies and Buzz's favorite sidekick. Also returning this year to accept your bribes for the Library are the Honorable Mayor, Ronald O. Loveridge, Dr. Ray Maghroori of Riverside Community College and Dr. Wendel Tucker of Villegas Middle School. This year the always fair and just Rule Miester Superior Court Judge Richard Fields will keep the judges to a strict time limit when making their rulings.

Everyone is encouraged to join in this fun, family event where wisdom, wit, costumes and bribes join forces to Help Riverside Read. In addition to correct answers, bribes, strategy and charm, even a stunt of two, can win your team points. Prizes are given for best costume, most questions answered correctly, most money raised and the popular audience's choice.

You can participate by being a sponsor, forming a team, coming to cheer your favorite team to glory (audience support can make or break a team) and of course volunteering. Form your team now and start practicing to capture the coveted Hive Award from last year's winners, Riverside East Rotary, Riverside Sunrise Rotary and The Bookwomen.

For more information, contact Marion Mitchell-Wilson at (951) 826-5713. Audience tickets, which include dinner are $20.00 for a family, $10.00 for adults and $2.50 for children and students. They will be available at every Riverside Public Library and at the door.

KALANJALI: WEDDING TEXTILES AND CLOTHING FROM HYDERABAD, INDIA

Kalanjali is a new and exciting temporary exhibition scheduled to open at the Riverside Municipal Museum on Saturday, November 13, 2004. This spectacular show is the product of a joint venture between the Museum and the Hyderabad Friendship City Committee of the International Relations Council of Riverside. Dr. Surekha Acharya co-chairs the steering committee with Dr. Brenda Focht, Curator of Collections.

Kalanjali, taken from Sanskrit for the Indian wedding ceremony, will introduce the Riverside community to the culture of Hyderabad, India, and inform visitors about the rich textile and clothing heritage of our Friendship City. It will feature wedding textiles and clothing from Banjara (Gypsy), Kayastha (Hindu), and Muslim peoples of Hyderabad. The exhibition will open with a fund raising reception, including a traditional Bharata Natyim dance performance by Ms. Rohinni Acharya, who is entering the UCLA School of Dance this fall.

"I'm extremely proud of this collaboration," said Dr. Vincent Moses, Museum Director, "and I know everyone will be anxious to see this exciting show, and the dance performance."

Remember, the show opens November 13, 2004, in time for the Festival of Lights.

CITY HONORED FOR ECONOMIC LEADERSHIP

The International Economic Development Council (IEDC), the largest professional economic development organization in North America, will recognize Riverside for its innovative economic development initiatives and will honor Mayor Ronald Loveridge for his career of public service on Monday, September 20th. IEDC will hold its annual meeting in St. Louis, September 19-22, 2004.

IEDC's Leadership Award for Public Service recognizes an elected official who has served as a committed advocate for economic development for at least 10 years in the public sector. Recipients of this award have demonstrated sustained and effective efforts to mobilize community groups and industry leaders in the development of programs and projects, played a key role in the planning and designing of new economic development activities, and displayed dedication and commitment to his/her constituency as a leader and advocate for economic development.

"This is quite an honor, coming from an organization I respect," said Mayor Loveridge, who was elected Mayor of Riverside in 1994. He previously served on Riverside City Council, representing Ward 1 from 1979 to 1994.

Riverside has solidified its role as a financial and professional center and expanded its role as a regional justice center. To encourage entrepreneurial activity and business opportunity, the City offers small business loan programs, comprehensive GIS mapping services, high-speed Internet bandwidth, demographic information and foreign trade subzones. Riverside actively encourages the development of high-tech innovation and jobs and has made it a priority to attract new business and nurture business retention by initiating regular business site visits. The City has cut red tape in planning and development departments, which has eased business interaction with permitting and other processes.

RIVERSIDE YOUTH COUNCIL BEGINS NEW COURT PROGRAM

The Riverside Youth Court is an innovative new program of the Riverside Youth Council. It operates under the auspices of the Office of the Mayor and is administered through the Family Services Bureau of the Riverside Police Department. The new youth program is an alternative approach to the traditional juvenile justice system and is intended as a prevention and early intervention program with a twofold purpose. It provides a means of holding youth accountable for their actions and it also educates youth on how the legal system functions. In Youth Court, young people sentence their peers who have admitted committing a misdemeanor crime such as shoplifting, fighting assault/battery, vandalism, and possessions of minor amounts of controlled substances. The volunteer students may serve as prosecutor, defense attorney, court clerk, or juror.

This program is one of the fastest growing movements in the nation with over 900 Youth Courts now in operation. The Riverside Youth Court hopes to disrupt a mind-set toward unlawful behavior before a pattern of lawbreaking is developed. It is based on the balanced restorative justice model and designed to focus on a respondents' accountability and competency development. By involving the community in the disposition, respondents learn to be connected to the community. Penalty options include a combination of mandatory future youth court jury duty, community service, attendance at educational workshops, apology letters, essays, counseling, restitution, drug testing, school attendance, curfew restrictions, and other creative remedies.

The Riverside Youth Court is an interagency collaboration that includes the Riverside County District Attorney, Riverside County Probation, Riverside Public Defender, Riverside Unified School District, Alvord Unified School District, Riverside County Juvenile Court, and the Riverside Police Department.

September 2004 will mark the 3rd Annual National Youth Court Month with more than 940 youth courts operating in 48 states and the District of Columbia. The Riverside Youth Court program will hold its first hearing on Wednesday, September 22 at the Riverside County Courthouse to commemorate this important month. The Riverside Youth Court will convene on a bi-monthly basis.

This year the theme of National Youth Court Month, "Serving Communities—Changing Lives" addresses two very important aspects of youth court. First, youth court provides a voice for the youth involved and provides them an opportunity to play an active role in addressing local problems through volunteer service in the community. Second, youth programs help them repair the harm they have caused as it teaches valuable life skills, in an effort to redirect the participants toward becoming contributing members of the community.

GENERAL PLAN 2025 PROGRAM UPDATE

On June 12, 2004 more than 200 Riverside residents attended the second Citizens Congress for the General Plan 2025 program. Attendees met at the beautiful California Baptist University campus. The motto of the conference was "You talked. We Listened. Did we get it Right?" Residents came to hear the newest bold moves proposed in the upgrade of the General Plan, Zoning and Subdivision Codes and Design Guidelines. Over the past year, residents have expressed their hopes for the city's future and their suggestions are compiled in the General Plan 2025 program.

During the event, participants viewed a presentation by Mayor Ronald Loveridge, Planning Director Ken Gutierrez, and the General Plan consultant team. The presentation illustrated how Riverside plans to grow smarter by balancing its desire to preserve the resources that distinguish Riverside with the need to accommodate new residents over the next 20 years. The key themes presented illustrated Riverside's vision:

- The City will grow, but will grow smarter. City will shape growth rather than let growth shape the City.
- Growth will respect and enhance Riverside's natural and historic resources.
- Traffic will increase, even without growth, but will be managed more effectively.
- Riverside will continue to grow as a major regional employment center.
- Riverside will remain a preeminent regional education center.
- Riverside's stature as the region's cultural center will be enhanced.
- Riverside will continue to move toward cleaner air.

Following the presentation, an interactive session with City staff, program attendees offered their thoughts and ideas about Riverside's Bold Moves. Participants also had the opportunity to share opinions at the interactive Crossroads station outside the theater. At the Crossroads, interested parties posted notes commenting on the Bold Moves and the three cornerstones of the General Plan: the Land Use Policy Map, the Master Circulation Plan, and Riverside Park.

On Wednesday, August 4, 2004 at 6:00 p.m. the City Planning commission began workshops on the documents. In October the actual public hearings on the documents will begin, starting with the City Planning Commission and later with the City Council.

The documents developed from the General Plan 2025 program will guide City leaders and staff in decision making for the next twenty years. Citizen input is vitally important and we encourage everyone to review the documents and share your comments with us.

NORMS RESTAURANT SELECTS RIVERSIDE YOUTH ACTION AS THEIR PARTNER TO HELP CELEBRATE 55 YEARS OF 24/7

When El Doran Marketing and Event Planning from Studio City, California, was asked, "how they heard about the Riverside Youth Action Office," it was with sheer excitement for Teresa McAllister, Youth Action Coordinator, to hear "We found you from surfing the internet." In November 2003, the Riverside Youth Action Office launched their official website to connect youth and families with fun things to do in Riverside, healthy activities, parent resources, school information, community calendar of events, teen resources, employment programs and much more information and access to activities and services intended for youth and families of Riverside.

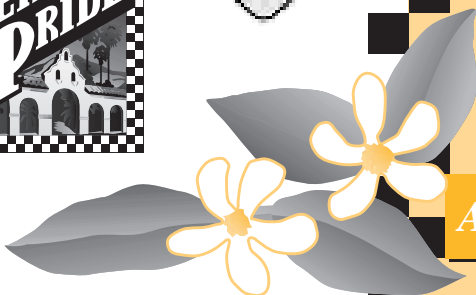

After reading about the partnerships and collaborations at the Youth Action Office, Elaine Doran, owner of El Doran Marketing and Shannon Richardson, General Manager of Norms Riverside, expressed how wonderful it would be to partner with a dedicated group of individuals committed to working together to improve the lives of children, youth and families in Riverside.

On October 30, 2004, at 10:00 a.m, NORMS Riverside will host a youth fund raiser supporting their 55th Anniversary and the opportunity for NORMS Riverside to give back to their community. Halloween Hotcakes Olympics and Tips-for-Kids will kick off a month long fundraising effort to support Riverside's youth programs.

Norm's Riverside has also created a special drink, which will be served from October 1 through November 30, with all proceeds benefiting youth programs.

NORMS restaurants have supported their local communities for 55 years. To commemorate the past, and look to the future, NORMS will salute its history, customers and community with the Norm's Riverside Halloween Hotcakes Olympics 2004 in partnership with the Riverside Youth Action Collaborative.
